

One Body, Many Parts

The church is like one body. We all have a body, but a body has many parts, each with their own important job. What can you do with different body parts?